ISU Special Announcement

Wednesday, January 13, 2016

Use of hoverboards on campus prohibited

Effective immediately, the use of hoverboards is prohibited throughout the Indiana State University campus. This extends a ban already in place in student housing facilities and Hulman Memorial Student Union.

University motor vehicle regulations have been updated accordingly and now state that the operation and/or parking of all motorized vehicles, including motorcycles, mopeds, golf carts and hoverboards (also known as self-balancing scooters, battery-operated scooters, or hands-free Segways), on the sidewalks, pedestrian paths, or lawns of property owned, leased, or used by Indiana State University is expressly prohibited - the exception being identified university service related vehicles, handicap service related vehicles, and emergency vehicles.

The Office of Communications and Marketing produces ISU Today, the daily electronic newsletter for Indiana State University, and distributes campus Special Announcements as needed. ISU Today and Special Announcements are provided to all faculty and staff via e-mail. Students and friends of the university may subscribe. Submission and subscription information »
