Thursday, August 13, 2015

It's on Blue launch

Indiana State University is committed to the prevention of sexual harassment, sexual violence, intimate partner violence and stalking.

The It's On Blue sexual misconduct prevention and education initiative will launch today. It's On Blue is a university-wide initiative to designed to create a culture of care, safety, and support within the ISU campus community. One aspect of the It's On Blue initiative is an online prevention and education program designed specifically for employees.

This afternoon all employees will receive an email with a link to complete the It's On Blue training. Please see our booth at the Welcome Back picnic or click the link below for more information.

As stated in the university's Policy Prohibiting Sexual Misconduct, Intimate Partner Violence, and Stalking, all employees are required to complete this online training. Our goal for completion of the program is Sept. 30. Prizes for completion are available!

More information on the It's On Blue initiative is available at www.indstate.edu/itsonblue.
