Presidential Search Committee seeks nominations

Dear Indiana State University community,

We have initiated a national search for the next President of Indiana State. The Presidential Search Committee has been charged with identifying finalists for the position and collecting campus feedback following finalist visits. The Search Committee is hopeful to have finalists visit campus in late October.

Storbeck/Pimentel & Associates, an executive search firm focused exclusively on higher education, will support the work of the Search Committee in recruiting a strong and diverse pool of candidates and facilitating a smooth search process.

We strongly encourage the campus community to be engaged in nominating individuals for this position.

Nominations can be sent via email to Storbeck/Pimentel at the contact information below and should consist of the name and institution/organization of the individual you wish to nominate.

Contact information and any perspectives on the qualifications of the nominee are helpful but not required.

All nominations are confidential unless the nominator indicates they would like their name to be used in the firm's outreach.

Ryan Crawford, Partner
Storbeck/Pimentel & Associates

A complete position description can be found on Storbeck/Pimentel's website and additional information on the search can be found on the ISU Presidential Search webpage.

Thank you for your participation in identifying prospective candidates for this important search.

Best regards,

Jeff Taylor, Search Chair
