NEWSROOM

Construction management renews accreditation

The ACCE is recognized by the Council for Higher Education as the accrediting agency for four-year baccalaureate degree programs in construction, construction science, construction management and construction technology.

SAHE cohort aims to diversify higher ed

More than half of this year's graduating class in the student affairs and higher education master's program are minoritized students, including 11 African American students who call themselves the "Elite 11."

More than 1,800 Sycamores participate in commencement

It was the first of such events for President Deborah Curtis, who became the 12th chief of Indiana State on Jan. 3.

New math teaching program OK'd

With the shortage of qualified mathematics teachers in Indiana and the nation, a new middle school math teaching major provides a more direct route to licensure for those who wish to focus on this grade level.
