Social Distance Recruitment

ISU President Deborah Curtis hosted a ZOOM Admissions Gathering Wednesday night. The event attracted 53 attendees. It was an opportunity for President Curtis to discuss a number of topics important to prospective students including the steps that ISU is taking to help protect health and safety while providing an affordable, high-value education. Common questions about instruction, safety, residence halls, events, and food service were among the important topics discussed. Joining President Curtis were New Student Orientation Student Leaders and Greg Goode, Executive Director of Government Relations and University Communication.

"What a great opportunity to engage in a Zoom webinar with a lot of prospective Sycamore students tonight. Thank you for joining us. Hope to see you this fall!"
